Compared to last week's feeder steers and heifers weight price averages ended fully $7 to $10 higher on all classes. Slaughter cows showed $1 stronger with the slaughter bulls finishing $2 higher.

The market continues to remain resilient even with the drought affecting 54% of the US beef cowherd. Buyers today showed aggression and activity on all classes .

We want to thank those who called and texted messaged us with concerns about the tornado that hit Crockett last night. Neither the facility nor any livestock were harmed.
